THE WASHBASINS COMPANY

A rendezvous with artistic excellence

The Washbasin Company is our endeavor to bring forth artistic creations from our skilled artisans in the form of marble washbasins. Makrana is synonymous with marble and is home to artisans with abilities that are beyond compare. Our products are a showcase of their incredible creativity. They are also a testimony of a legacy passed over from one generation to the next. The means might have changed. Hands have replaced machines in various tasks, but their love for marble and molding it into shapes as imaginative as functionally perfect continues. These handmade sinks are evidence of years of honing of skills and the experience of the artisans.

Marble has been a cherished material for centuries and continues to be. Erasmic marble, our parent company, is a well-known name in the marble industry. With our venture, The Washbasin Company, we are exploring one more domain of marble, the marble washbasins, to make washrooms and kitchens look more visually appealing.

The Washbasin Company is our rendezvous with artistry. It is an attempt to create a platform for the artisans of Makrana to empower them, give their skills a new dimension, and present to the world incredible pieces of art in the form of marble basins.

Erasmic Marbles

Four decades of creating magnificence

A company with a successful history of four decades, Erasmic Marble is a name to reckon with in the marble world. The brainchild of late Shri Santosh Kumar Ji Jain, the company was founded in 1986 in Makrana. It has grown manifold by the sheer hard work of its founder and successors.

The organization started as a service provider and now functions as a prominent trader and supplier of large varieties of marble spanning from Indian to imported. The company also deals in almost all types of granites.

Our areas of expertise are varied, major ones being temples, handicrafts, Vedis, Maanstambh, Keetristambh, Mehram, and sculptors. Working in these spheres, the company has set up a benchmark. It continues to provide excellent services to clients.
